

Jim Peplinski's Leasemaster Privacy Statement

At Jim Peplinski's Leasemaster ("JPL"), we respect your privacy. We are pleased to inform you of your privacy rights and how JPL will treat your personal information.

When your application is received, JPL will establish a file on you in which we will retain personal information about you that we collect as described below. This information will be used and retained for the following purposes:

1. to evaluate your credit and to properly administer your account should you execute a lease with JPL
2. to assist in any collection activity on such account if necessary
3. to determine the suitability of and your eligibility for our products and services
4. to provide you with ongoing service under any contracts you may enter into with JPL or its affiliates
5. to conduct market analysis
6. to offer you products and services that JPL determines are best suited to your needs and preferences and
7. to meet legal and regulatory requirements.

JPL will consult with a credit reporting agency to determine the suitability of your application. In addition, we may, from time to time, during the course of the financial relationship between us, collect personal information about you from credit reporting agencies, credit bureaus and others.

Only JPL employees and service providers whose job functions include customer service, credit evaluation, collection of accounts and customer program development and implementation will have access to the information in your file during the time it is maintained by us, which will be no longer than applicable law permits. Your personal information will never be sold.

In terms of our lease agreement, JPL may assign all or any of our rights under any contracts with you to any of our affiliates and we may assign, transfer, sell, pledge or otherwise encumber or dispose of any whole or partial interest in these rights, without further notice to you, to a third party as part of JPL's ongoing process of financing our business. Furthermore, any such third party may, under certain circumstances, appoint a servicer to collect and remit payments and to provide other services. Any service so appointed will use and retain the personal information about you for the purpose of providing its services in connection with your contracts with JPL and its affiliates and to meet legal and regulatory requirements.

JPL may share the personal information collected from you and about you with credit bureaus, credit reporting agencies, credit insurers, registries companies and persons affiliated or associated with JPL, including but not limited to any assignee of your contract, any servicer appointed by an assignee of your contract, any other entity with whom you have or are proposing to have a financial relationship and to any non-affiliated party as permitted by law. We may share such information with these parties for the following purposes:

1. to promote a business relationship with you
2. to service your contract and
3. to meet legal and regulatory requirements

JPL may also provide information collected including your name address, phone number and account information to companies and persons affiliated or associated with us

You may withdraw your consent to have your personal information used or shared for marketing purposes by calling JPL Customer Service Centre at 1-800-465-1174 or email our Privacy Officer at privacy@jimlease.com
